Hi Girls!

How are you both??? I did write that email yesterday to try to "calm down" what was going on over there... There was someone named Kathy who went on the site, said I knew her and so did Howard, and that we didn't support the site. Howard didn't want those people turning on him and starting to blog negatively so that is why I did that... I'm trying to keep the peace and get them to stop being so mean to you... That is the only email I'm sending over there so now it is over in my eyes.. If they want to continue, they are doing it on their own.. I just wanted to thank them for whatever help they provided in the past and not seem ungrateful.

Thanks for watching out for me....

:) Bonnie

Do you know anyone that can call any of these ppl with phone numbers as a pretense to verify family tree and children of Jonas and Ada Allman? If we can do that, then Howard can use that Friday in his hearing, he does not seem to think the genealogy links and the Obits tie this family together...

One of Howard's lawyers just emailed me and said they would love to review any and everything we find in public records....

I sent everything I had through last night and told them we would work as fast as we could and get more to them tonight.

Hon. In the morning if you have time... drop Bonnie an email and tell her we will continue to do what we do....

No one but me has emailed her back..... shows a lot of where Duane, Von and Jane are at doesn't it....

Keep someone on their blogs to monitor what is being said about us... as it comes time we will then take the appropriate actions...

Personally I hope "O'Quinn contacts them and scares them silly.... LOL"

Bonnie knows you and I are the good guys....

Look at this that I put together tonight and sent on for the hearing tomorrow in case Bonnie has questions in the morning before the hearings....

Love you hon... talk to you with coffee....:)

Is there anything else needed before tomorrow's hearing?

Subject: Howard

Hello Everyone,

I got a call from Howard and he is concerned about all the negativity that is going on and the emails back and forth. Something that started as very positive and a huge help has now become a lot of stress and unhappiness for many. This is very sad. He appreciates ALL the work that EVERYONE has done on his behalf. He is extremely grateful and is disappointed to see that it has become something people are upset and fighting over.

If the work that any of you do independently is sold to the media, that is fine with him as long as whatever is put out there is accurate and there is no reference or affiliation to the information coming from him (which he wouldn't be).

Please try to understand that what he has gone through and is still going through is very stressful and this bantering back and forth is only making matters worse for everyone including each of you.

Thanks for all of your help and Howard hopes that all of this can be resolved and each of you may not have any further stress or anger regarding this.

Thanks,
Bonnie

Just so you know... a couple of things

Bonnie a couple of things here.

First Chrystal had already completed about 30 days of transcripts and the spread sheet Howard wanted. I told her I would hold those but NOT send them, and if at a later date Howard needed any of these, you had our email addies.

Second we are being flooded with bloggers now that Jane's blog is also saying the estate of Anna should never receive one penny from the Marshall estate... and don't ask me why I don't go there... BUT we had people begging us to open the blog we have to comments and to post some of the articles we have and answer some of the questions people might have from OUR prospective only, NO contact with the Stern family or legal team...

Hopefully the uproar on TMZ, Court TV and Jane's blog will die down in the next few days or at least turn to the Opri - Birkhead fight that is brewing and let the warring blogs fade into memories past...
